

Seeking community partners for an exciting new pilot project in school meals!

EVERY MEAL MATTERS!

Does your school community have creative ideas for how to improve your children's school meals?

Every Meal Matters is a pilot project supported by Hunger-Free Oregon to engage local community members in decisions made about their school's meal service programs.

Small grants will be offered to the partnering organization ($7,000) and school ($5,000), and compensation, transportation, and childcare will be provided to participating families.

Hunger-Free Oregon is seeking to work with one school community in the Reynolds, David Douglas, or Portland Public school districts from March-December 2020.

Ideally, the participating Every Meal Matters school will have:

- Need for better access to school meals (e.g., school has lower than ideal student participation in school meals);
- High potential for change (e.g., a community group is already interested in taking action to make change on school meals).

Interested learning more about in this project?

Please contact: Alison Killeen
alison@oregonhunger.org
503-505-5501 x305

